Saturday, September 19, 2009 Annual Open House

Please mark your calendars for this year's annual Open House, entitled I: yi, yi! We'll mainly be showcasing the work from this year's Environmental Art Program. Along with approximately 20 new environmental art works on the land, there will be music, performances and hopefully a few things that will make you say 'I: yi, yi!' It's Saturday, September 19. We'll be posting more on the website as the time gets closer.

Virginia Woolf
She never imagined her flesh a centerpiece until, at six, her brothers elevated her body to eye-level upon the marble mantelpiece, then scrutinized each crevice of the body, bibliophiles awed at the nubile frontispiece.
Small wonder then that brain battled body the rest of her life, that no shred of peace or quietude came to her, that the whole body of her work sought wholeness, each piece, each atom anchored to the aesthetic body which replaced that physical one dismantled piece by piece in childhood. And when the body counts grew and nights rained fire, she knew no masterpiece remained. Lovers hiking found the body.
